BALLOT NOW IN FAVOR FOR THE ; SUBURBAN HANDICAP.

Voter Colt Wins $6,000 for Mr. Keene Madden Uncovers a Good Colt in Lawton Wiggins and Refuses $25,000 for Fayette-Hildreth After Sir Martin.

Because of his splendid victory in the Standard Stakes yesterday expert horsemen predicted that James R. Keene's Ballot yould come very near winning the Suburban Handicap at the Bay. Ballot was in rare form for his first appearance and fooled many wise men who played either Montgomery or Royal Tourist to beat him. In the prices Ballot opened at 7 to 10, but went back to 9 to 10, as Montgomery was played from 6 to 5 and Royal Tourist was cut from 4 to 3. Ballot was never extended and when came home in triumph the big crowd applauded him heartily. Ballot's share of the stakes was $6,000. The Standard was ing Ethelbert, Advance Guard, Heno. Major Daingerfield, Beldame, Whimsical and Peter Pan. Ballot's time, 2:05 3-5, equalled Peter Pan's record for the race at a mile and a quarter.

John E. Madden uncovered another good two-year-old in Lawton Wiggins, by Pla-nudes-Roska, winner of the Hudson Stakes Madden said before the race that all the starters were high class selling platers and that his colt stood as good a chance to win as any. The youngster went up to 8 to 1 before he got a play that reduced him to 7. Mr. Keene's Esperanto, who started for the first time and ran second, is a chestnut colt by Disguise—Anomaly. Mr. Whitney's Sun Dance, a Hamburg filly, was made favorite, backed from 3 to 13 to 5, but she was apparently outclassed. The Patchogue Stable added Rossfenton, and Owner DuBois led a play that reduced him from 3 to 5 to 2, but he gray colt was last all the way-in a performance that puzzled both DuBois and Trainer Frank Taylor. Choirmaster of Chesterbrook, a colt by the Bard—North-mister, ran in the name of E. B. Cassatt and was saddled by Jacob Pincus, the oldest trainer in this country. The youngster was well played, too, his odds falling from 12 The Cellas bet on Tod three ways, but got nothing. Madden's share of the stakes was $5.600. The former winners of he Hudson were Kingfish, Oregon, Ballant Gray Rock, Georgia, Wallace, Halton, Gotha m Applegate, Arbuckle, George Kessler, George Keene, Jean Beraud, High Order, Prince Charles, Hanover, Queen, River Pirate, Palmbearer, Glorifler, Jacobite, Gretna Green and Royal Vane.

Big money, including a heavy wager by Dave Johnson, was lost on Mr. Keene's Peter Quince in the first race. The Commando col was backed from 3 to 8 to 5, but when the that he never had a chance to make good King Cobalt, on the other hand, was steadily played at 3, and came home with the coin. Baby Wolf opened the choice at 11 to 5, but went up to 3. There was as much at 50 to 1 against Bat Masterson, who ran third, at one time, and he got a light play three ways. Baby Wolf gave six pounds to King Cobalt ex to Nimbus, twenty-one to Rapid Water, fifteen to Peter Quince and twenty-seven to

The public sent it in on Bad News in the second race, pounding him down from 6 to 5 to 9 to 10. Hyperion II. was a strong second choice, while Beauclere, reduced from 8 to 7, was also taken liberally to show. these horses finished as they were fancied the ring received a hard drubbing. Although Blandy pulled up lame the other day Frank Farrell and his friends bet on him again in this race, getting top price, 8 to 1; but the old fellow, after showing some early speed, gradually slowed down and finished lutely last. He was on the verge of a breakdown as he was led away to his stall

Farrell left immediately afterward for Detroit to join his New York American League team, so that he did no have a wager on his three-year-old Almandine, who won the sixth event. But James E. Gaffney, Johnny White and others who follow the Farrell stable did not allow Almandine to run unbacked, and at the last moment there was support enough Weir put Delaby in the saddle and said that if Almandine could get to the lower turn in front he would simply walk home. Delaby rushed the Star Ruby gelding to the front in accordance with his instructions, and the race was over as far as Almandine was concerned when he got into the backstretch.

But the defeat of Monocle in this event caused much unpleasant comment. He was a favorite, backed from 7 to 2 to 13 to 5, and when he reached the barrier his bridle was grabbed by Starter Cassidy's assistant, who hung on until after the barrier had been rethat Monocle never had a chance. Bolando was played chiefly to show, while Montauk was well taken straight and place. Wild Refrain, Rosario and Irish Lace were all tipped and backed at long odds.

One of the periodical Carman good things went over the plate when Right Sort won the wager on at 7 and his friends followed suit Right Sort was lucky to win as Lady Hubbard and Bonnie Kelso, who cut up the rest of the purse, were both victims of tough racing luck. Madden felt confident that Lady Hubbard would win, so that the Yankee filly was liberally backed three ways at 7 5 to 2, and 6 to 5. Bonnie Kelso, trained by George Odom, was also in much favor at 5. So was C. R. Ellison's Yankee Daughter at the same quotation. But the biggest play was on A. J. Joyner's Ramble, who was resubstantially on the general result.

The Cellas cleaned up with Fore, a flee Cesarion filly in the last race. backed from 3 to 13 to 5, and enabled her supporters to deal the layers a solid blow on the solar plexus. Raquet who ran second, went up from 7 to 12, while Ceremonious receded thing, backed from 10 down to 5, while the Oneck Stable's Desolate was cut from 8 to 7. Shapdale was also taken at 6. The Madden two-year-olds are already in foreman, offered Madden $25,000 for Fayette, by Ogden, who ran second to Sir Martin in the Great American Stakes on Saturday. The offer was said to have been made at the instance of H. P. Whitney, but it was promptly refused. S. C. Hildreth, who bought Uncle and Meelick from Madden last year for $40,000, asked the latter yesterday f he would consider a proposition for Sir Martin. Madden replied in the affirmative and Hildreth is expected to name a price to day. Both Sir Martin and Fayette have so many valuable stake engagements that it is believed their owner will not sell unless he secures his own terms. Starter Cassidy suspended Jockey Garner for the rest of the week because of his misenduct at the post. Jockey Gilbert is down for the rest of the meeting for a similar offence. It was reported yesterday that A. W. Claxon might be engaged as trainer of the Carman horses. W. Barbee, however, has been doing well with them and his release is not generally expected. Notter was in excellent form yesterday, a he rode three winners and a second. E. ugan was beaten on all of his mounts. G. Burns handled a winner and a second.

it is announced that a number of James R. Keene's yearlings bred at Castleton will be sold at auction on July 4. Mr. Keene has so many horses in training and so many yearlings that he finds it compulsory to cut the mber down. At the coming sale a few of the choicest yearlings will be reserved, but the others will go to the highest bidders. Jack McGinnis thinks that his Collar colt Frank Gill has a chance to win the Suburban Handicap. Gill worked a mile and a quarter the other day in 2:11 1-5 and did so well that he has been tabbed for the big race at the Bay. Dave Johnson was a heavy loser up to the Ballot race. He plunged on Peter Quince and Sun Dance to his sorrow. He did not bet much on Ballot and then lost a good sized wager on Monocle. Fore got him partially

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK BALLOT WINS THE STANDARD. Keene's Voter Colt Beats His Rivals at Gravesend With Ease.

James R. Keene's Ballot ran his first race of the season at Gravesend yesterday and won the Standard Stakes, weight for age, one mile and a quarter, in impressive style.

Ballot was a receding odds on favorite at 4 to 5. He took the lead when the barrier went up and never relinquished it, breezing down the homestretch to the wire with two lengths to spare in 2:05 3-5. H. P. Whitney's Royal Tourist, 3 to 1, chased him for thr quarters of a mile, when Miller moved up with S. C. Hildreth's Montgomery, 5 to 1. The latter made a game rush in the last quarter but finished in the place four lengths before the Whitney three-year-old.

John E. Madden's colt Lawton Wiggins, 7 to 1, ran a vastly improved race in the Hudson Stakes, for two-year-olds, five furlongs. He caught Mr. Keene's Esperanto, 7 to 1, on the turn and then beat the latter easily by a length and a half in 1:01. Dwyer's Sir John, 10 to 1, was three lengths

King Cobalt, 3 to 1, made all the pace in the handicap for all ages at about six furlongs and won easily by two lengths in 1:00. Baby Wolf, 3 to 1, was second all the way and had three lengths over Bat Masterson, a 30 to 1 shot. Mr. Keene's Peter Quince, a red hot favorite, was practically left at the post.

Bad News, 9 to 10 favorite, had no trouble in taking the second race, at a mile and a furlong. Notter waited with him while Hyperion II., 4 to 1, made the running to the head of the stretch, where Bad News moved up swiftly and won easily by three parts of a length in 1:54 1-5. Hyperion II. was a length before Beauclere, 7 to 1.

Right Sort, 7 to 1, showed the way in the fifth race, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, and won handily by a scant length in 1:08 3-5. John E. Madden's Lady Hubbard, 7 to 1, however, was the best, for although she was shut off and knocked about.

Frank J. Farrell's Almandine, 8 to 1, made a spreadeagle runaway of the sixth race, for maiden three-year-olds, at a mile and a sixteenth, and won, pulled up, by four lengths in 1:49.

HARRY OUTPOINTS WILLIE.

Two Lewises in Scientific Battle at

With the exception of one round, the last, Harry Lewis of Philadelphia outpointed Willie Lewis of this city in a six round bout street, last night. It was the first appear-France, where he beat a number of second raters, and as a result the clubhouse was crowded. For five rounds the men, who are light middleweights, fought cleanly and with Willie Lewis used a straight left with some effect, but he missed countless blows because of the agility of his opponent on the defensive. ter as to cleverness, and landing a greater number of clean cut punches he had a wide margin at the end of the fifth round.

When the sixth round began Willie Lewis,

When the sixth round began Willie Lewis, a slugger pure and simple, cut loose. He swung right and left with great force to the head and body, jarring his antagonist before half a minute had elapsed. But Harry Lewis was willing to meet him half way, the result being a flerce mixup, hammer and tongs, which lasted to the gong. Both men were weak and wobbly when the battle ended, but on points Harry Lewis still had an advantage.

ended, but on points Harry Lewis still had an advantage.

There was an exciting preliminary between Frank Thomas of Wales, formerly in the English army, and Harry Scrogss of Baltimore. Thomas was cautioned three times by the referee, John White, for hitting on the breakaway, but Scrogs, who lost his head finally and resorted to butting, was disqualified. The referee had to tear these men apart to end the scrap. There were several other bouts in which the fighting was fast and furious.

POUGEREPSIE, June 9 .- The water to-day on the Hudson River was exceedingly rough and hampered the Columbia carsmen in and hampered the Columbia carsmen in their regular practice. In the morning the crews rowed down the river to a point two miles below the finish of the course. The shells had to be baled out frequently and hence little progress in the training line was made. In the evening the experience of the morning was duplicated, and after some rough water work and some more baling the crews went back to their boathouse.

AILSA CRAIG AT BERMUDA

POWER BOAT MAKES THE TRIP IN LITTLE MORE THAN 66 HOURS.

Nothing Heard of the Irene, but She Has Until 7:30 o'Clock This Morning to Get In-Heavy Weather Reported All the Way-Zuhrah and Esperanza Finish.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 9 .- The power oat Ailsa Craig arrived here this morning. She was sighted heading for the finishing line some time after 10 o'clock coming out of the northwest, and as steady as a church she kept along her course with all hands on deck heading toward the mark boat that showed the finish of her long race. She swept acros the line at 11:07:30 and giving a cheer for those on the committee boat she headed straight up the harbor and was soon moored off the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club house In coming in that way she broke all quarantine regulations and is liable to a heavy fine The Allsa Craig left Gravesend Bay at 4:35 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, and so her elapsed time for the 650 mile journey is 66 hours 32 minutes 30 seconds. Last year she made the trip in 64 hours 57 minutes James Craig, Jr., her owner, reported that the yacht experienced heavy seas and strong the weather conditions, which made things very uncomfortable on board, the Ailsa Craig was pushed all the way except once when she was slowed up to allow observations to be taken. Mr. Craig says he is satisfied that he has the best boat for ocean racing. The average number of revolutions made by the engine for the entire trip were 296 a minute and the yacht's average speed was 10.3 nautical miles an hour. In last year's race she averaged 10.18 nautical miles an hour. Up to noon on Sunday she ran 190 miles. In the next twenty-four hours up to noon on Monday she made 248 miles and then to the finish it was 245 miles.

Speaking of the engines Mr. Craig said they were in perfect running condition and, said he, "a motor yacht has yacht racing skinned to death, We lost sight of the Irene an hour after starting."

Every member of the crew is well pleased with the result, although the time made this year was slower than that of last year, but this was due to the heavy weather. Those on board were heartily welcomed by the yachtsmen here and by those on the visiting yeachts.

The Irene being a smaller yacht than the Alisa Craig gets an allowance of 20 hours 23 minutes 24 seconds, so that if she gets in when she was slowed up to allow observations yachts.

The Irene being a smaller yacht than the Ailsa Craig gets an allowance of 20 hours 23 minutes 24 seconds, so that if she gets in before half past 7 o'clock to-morrow morning she will win. To be exact she has until 7:30:54, when her allowance will have expired. The Ailsa Craig had on board James Craig, Jr., her owner, John and James Connell, engineers, J. S. F. Kerr, who acted as mate; James Welch, a mate from the Bermudian, who was navigator: Charles F. Chase, Theodore E. Ferris, Capt. H. M. Traoy, a deckhand and a steward. She was built for this face last year from designs by A. Cary Smith and Ferris and is 59 feet on the water line and fitted with a 60 horse-power motor. The trophy for which the motor boats raced was offered by James Gordon Bennett and has to be won three times by the same yachtsman, not necessarily with the same yacht, before it becomes his property. Each year that it is in competition there is also a cash prize of $1,000.

The Irene, in charge of Thomas Fleming Day and owned by S. G. Granbery, is only 36 feet long on the water line. When she started it was figured that she would reach Hamilton in sighty hours. If she does this she will win, but it is very probable that the seas and heavy weather generally have hurther chances much more than they have those of the Ailsa Craig.

The schooners Esperanza and Zuhrah have both reached the finishing line in the race from Marblehead. The two were sighted late yesterday afternoon, the Esperanza to the southeast and the Zuhrah and as it was late yesterday afternoon, the Esperanza to the southeast and the Zuhrah to the southwest; but there was some doubt about the second yacht being the Zuhrah and as it was impossible for them to come up in the dark it was not officially known that they had finished until this morning. Both yachts had experienced hard gales and both had been driven off their course.

The Zuhrah finished at 7:53 in the evening, and she anchored off St. Georges until this morning, when she came into the harbor and anchored off the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club. Henry Doscher said all on board were well, but that the yacht had had a hard time and experienced a succession of gales from the start. She sailed closely with the Dervish and Esperanza the first two days, but was carried far to the west by easterly winds. The elapsed time of the Zuhrah was 128 hours, 5 minutes 20 seconds.

The Esperanza crossed the line at 5:22 o'clock this morning. She had, to beat up to the finish in a light wind. Her log shows that she made 210 miles the first day up to noon on Thursday. The next twenty-four hours she made 114 miles. Then up to noon on Saturday she sailed 192 miles: 122 miles the finish in a light wind. Her log shows that she made 210 miles the first day up to noon on Thursday. The next twenty-four hours she made 114 miles. Then up to noon on Saturday she sailed 192 miles: 122 miles was made the next day and 127 miles the last day. She, too, was carried far to the westward by the gales and the reports of the owners of the three larger yachts show that they experienced much heavier weather than the venona and Marchioness and had sailed courses that held them to the west of the smaller boats. The Venona and Marchioness passed about twenty miles east of Nantucket Shoals lightship and held on out to sea, while the Dervish, Esperanza and Zuhrah stood to the west after passing the shoals and found heavy easterly and southeasterly winds that drove them off.

When off Cape Cod the Zuhrah led. At noon on Thursday the three large yachts were about twenty miles ahead of the two small ones and were very close together. At noon on Friday the Esperanza was in the lead, but the Dervish took the lead soon afterward and held it in her class. The Venona and Marchioness passed her through being further out to sea.

On Wednesday night while heading out toward the Nantucket Shoals lightship the Esperanza had her mainsail blown away. The cook was the only man on board to volunteer to go out on the boom to secure the clew. A big sea was running at the time and the sail was flapping in the wind so that it was a dangerous undertaking. Every one on board praises the cook for his pluck. On Saturday the mainsail was split and the yacht lost three other sails during the voyage.

All the yachtsmen are enthusiastic about the race in spite of the hard weather they experienced and the work they had to put in. The success of next year's race is assured, as all declare that they will enter spain and the owners of the Esperanza and Zah are determined to beat the Dervish if possible.

The harbor presents a pretty picture this afternoon. The five sailing craft are anchored off the club house and all are dressed in bunti

The visitors and local yachts will compete The visitors and local yachts will compete off St. George to-morrow for a cup offered by Thomas Fleming Day. On Thursday there will be water sports in the harbor here and in the evening all the visiting yachtsmen will be entertained at dinner by the members of the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club.

The committee has figured out very carefully the elapsed times and corrected time of each yacht in the sailing classes which are as follows:

The committee has taken the actual times at the start, which, with the finishing times, were as follows:
Class B. Signal gun time 11:15 A. M. June 3.

5:22 A. M. June 9 8:85 P. M. June 7

ITHACA, N. Y., June 9 .- Although the Cornell oarsmen will leave for Poughkeepsie on Saturday Coach Courtney is still minus a varsity crew. When the men reported at the boathouse to-night four men who had been boathouse to-night four men who had been rowing in the first boat last week were removed from the shell and a new crew was formed. Brinton, Bullen, Crawford and Bayer all lost their places and Williams, Horton, Stevens and Smith were put in the varsity. The varsity combination was made up as follows: Smith, bow; Stone, 2; Clark, 3; Backus, 4; Stevens, 6; Horton, 6; Williams, 7; Cox, stroke.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 .- Meadow Brook beat Bryn Mawr polo team to-day in rather a hollow style, 12 to 5. The victory of the New York players was due principally to three things, superior ponies, the tanability of Bryn Mawr's back, Charles Wheeler, to hit the ball and the good work of Deversux Milburn.

OLYMPIC ENTRIES CABLED. Sherman of Harvard Will Join Team and Pay His Own Way.

The American entries in the Olympic games were cabled yesterday to the British Olympic Council and the supplemental list or conditional selections were included also. Th names for each event were arranged, and with a few changes were the same as published in The Sun yesterday. If any man in the supplemental string ourses to go to London and compete he can do so by putting up the sum of $325. The first man of this class to amount is B. E. Sherman, the Harvard University hammer thrower. He wired James E. Sullivan, chairman of the selection com mittee, that he was willing to comply with the conditions and his name was sent to England for the 16 pound hammer and the javelin. It was an instance of a fine sporting spirit of the part of the Harvard man, said Sullivan. Along with the regular events in the weight throwing line the American strong men will be mustered for the tug of war. The will be mustered for the tug of war. The nominations are Rose, McGrath, Dearborn, Gillis, Flanagan, Burroughs, Sheridan and Talbot, and the reserves, Coe, Sands, Giffin, B. E. Sherman, Horr and Krueger.

Among the running events there are two team races in which Americans expect to figure. The longer of these is three miles, and it will be scored after the style of a cross-country run; that is each member of the team will have to cover the entire distance, the team with the lowest score to win. For this race the regular nominations are Bellars, Trube, Elsele, Bonhag, Dull and Rowe, the supplemental names being E. P. Carr, R. J. Carr, Hall and H. C. Young. The shorter race will be 1,600 meters and though it is mentioned on the English programmes as a team race it will be run on the plan of an American relay. Each country can enter only one team of four with four reserves. The distance in yards is 1,749,9, but it will not be run in equal relays. There will be two relays of 200 meters (218.6 yards), one at 400 meters (374.6 yards). The nominations are Cartmell and Huff for the first two relays: Taylor for the 400 meters and Sheppard for the 800 meters and the reserves are Hamilton, Whitham, Merrlam and Halstead. From the names it is an event wherein America should make a strong bid for first honors.

In the three mile team race five men will be allowed to start, but only three will count. G. V. Bonhag of the Irish-American A. C., who won the 1,500 meter walk at Athens two years ago, has been nominated for two heel and toe events in the coming Olympiad. The distances are ten miles and 3,500 meters.

Robert B. Foster of the Chicago A. A. and Harry J. Hebner of the Illinois A. C., who were unknown to fame here and whose specialties could not be learned are aquatic experts. They will figure in the 200 and 400 meter swims and the team race.

The British Olympiad Council cabled J. E. Sullivan yesterday that if the rifle team entries were sent right away the men would be allowed to shoot, otherwise the entry would lapse.

International Chess. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PRACUE, Bohemia, June 9.—After a day of rest the chess players yesterday engaged chess masters' tourney. The American champion, Schlechter, brought about a big surprise by beating the Austrian in eplendid style. Marshall conducted the black pieces and succeeded in outplaying his rival in the and succeeded in outplaying his rival in the middle game stage. Schlechter thus suffered his first defeat, all the more surprising as he went through the Vienna tournament with a clean score. Still, Schlechter leads the field, as his nearest rival Vidmar went down before Rubinstein. The other results were: Teichmann beat Mieses, Spielmann beat Bardeleben, Leonhardt beat Prokes, Janowsk, beat Suechting. Drawn games: Maroczy-Duras, Alapin-Treyball, Salwe-Leontieff. Adjourned: Kvicala-Chotimirski in favor of the latter.

May Trade Ames for Young Cy Young Boston, June 9.- A proposition has been made to trade Young Cy Young of the York Nationals. Manager McGraw of New and Ames is anxious to come to Boston on ac-count of friction between McGraw and him-self. Young has not done good work for Boston this season and a difference on the salary question between him and President Dovey is said to have something to do with his poor work. McGraw has been after the local man for several years.

PIRATES WERE EASY PICKING

NEW YORKS PLAY ALL AROUND THE PITTSBURG MEN.

Crandall Makes Sure of His Own Game by Hitting a Home Run-Cubs Now Smiting Brooklyns-St. Louis Shut Out by Quakers Reds Add to Their Victories.

Keeping up their fast play the New York Nationals yesterday made the Pittsburg Pirates bow to their prowess. Across the river the luckless Brooklyns took on the champions and lost the game. The Cardinals of St. Louis were not in it in their game with the Quakers, while the high flying Cincin-nati Reds threw a defeat into the Bostons. There was no change in the standing, though the New Yorks drew up very close to the Pittsburgs. The results: New York, S; Pittsburg, 2.

Chicago, 4; Brooklyn, 3. Philadelphia, 7; St. Louis, 0.

Cincinnati, 5; Boston, 2. STANDING OF THE CLUBS. Chicago. 27 15 648 Philadelphia 20 19 Cincinnati 25 17 595 boston. 19 24 Plutsburg. 23 19 548 St. Louis. 19 28 New York. 23 20 636 Brooklyn. 15 28

The New Yorks were on edge for the Pirates yesterday and played one of the best all around games they have put up this sea-son. They also played all around the Pirates and swamped that ordinarily formidable crowd, but which crowd yesterday played poorly and as if nervous and rattled. The New Yorks were on their toes from the start and out loose such olever and rapid play that the Pitesburgs were staggered and guessing Yorks, having a big lead, took delight in takgot away with one remarkable piece of base running, Tenney scoring all the way from first on a short single, though when he started for the plate it looked as if he were prompted chiefly by a desire to indulge in a little unre-

Crandall sent up a lot of 'puzzling twisters for the Pittsburgs to analyze, and it was hard for the Pittsburgs to analyze, and it was hard for the Pittsburgs to analyze, and it was hard for the Pittsburgs to analyze, and it was hard for the Pittsburgs to analyze, and it was hard for the Pittsburgs to meet the ball solidly. Mostly it shaved their bats and shot off at harmless tangents. Crandall was free with his bases on balls, but he was so hard to hit that his one frality did not annount to anything. All the consecutive hitting done off him was in the last two innings, when he doubtless eased up. Crandall also cinched his own game by lifting the ball into the left field seats and pushing two runs over ahead of him. Right here Camnitz hung out the distress signal and was relieved. A Milesian pony battery, McCarthy and O'Connor, stepped into the breach and did very well.

On the expansive brows of Freddy Clarke of Pittsburg and Larry Doyle of New York rested the fielding laurels. Clarke made all sorts of catches, and Doyle covered more ground and handled ground drives with more sureness than he ever has done in New York. He moved fast and was very quick with his hands. His and Clarke's work was good enough to earn them places on the Olympic team, except that the Britons are not yet educated up to baseball. As to the famous Wagner, who appeared with a brand new haircut, his prowess accompanied his shorn locks. The barber who operated on 4 jonus must have been an unwitting Delilah. The New York's first run, made in the first inning. Shannon strolled, Tenney sacrificed, Shannon stolled, Tenney sacrificed, Shannon to be a sea on the first inning. Devlin in he has but singled, Doyle was hit and Bridwell bunted to Camnitz, who fumbled. The bases were all tenanted and Crandall poked an easy one to Camnitz. Devlin was thrown out at the plate, but Kane muffed Gibson's throw. Therefore instead of a double play with no run there was only one out and Doyle came in on Kane's muff. Shannon scored Bridwell with a hit.

run there was only one out and Doyle came in on Kane's muff. Shannon scored Bridwell with a hit.

Crandall made his home run in the fifth. Bresnahan had reached first on a drive that took a bad bound to Tommy Leach, Devlin had singled, Doyle had fanned and Bridwell had scored Bresnahan with a hit when Crandail sent the ball winging to the clouds. It was a tremendously high hit as well as a long one. Clark backed up against the stand and despairingly watched the ball go kiting past him into the seats.

Fine relaying by Donlin and Doyle shut off Kane at the plate in the seventh inning. Kane basted a three bagger to the ropes and tried to make a home run out of it. Doyle took Donlin's relay and made a beautiful throw to Bresnahan. With two out in the eighth Tenney was safe on Leach's wide throw. As he started for second Donlin hit the ball, which went between Kane and Abbaticchio. It was no trick for Tenney to get to third on the hit, but he kept right on, though the ball went only a short distance out on the right field grass. The Pittsburg fielders were slow in getting after it slow in getting it home and Tenney slid around the catcher when it did get in.

The Pirates plucked two counts in the ninth on a base on balls and Wilson's whole thing hit past Seymour. The score:

CHICAGO (N. L.*, 4: BROOKLYN, 3.

Free hitting at Washington Park yesterday was counterbalanced by sharp fielding, and the Cubs and Brooklyns had to work hard for their runs. The quality of the Chicago toil was a bit better than Brooklyns, at least it yielded one more run. The conjoint result of Evers's hit, Hofman's sacrifice, Kling's long fly and a passed ball in the first inning was one run for Chicago. The Cubs made another in the fourth on Chance's hit, Steinfeldt's out at first, Slagle's infield safety and Moran's outfield fly. They made their third in the fifth on Pfiester's double, an out and a fumble by Lewis.

The Brooklyns made three runs in the seventh and tied the score. There were two out when Ritter hit for two bases. McIntire singled and scored Ritter, Burch hit safely and Pattee drove McIntire home with a hit. Burch then made a daring dash for the plate while Johnny Evers was examining an injured finger and got there safely.

In the eighth-the Chicagos made the winning run on a hit by Hofman, a sacrifice by Kling and a single by Steinfeldt. The Brooklyns had two on bases in the ninth when Pattee ended the game by striking out. The score:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

New Yorks Come Strong in the Eighth and Beat the Detroits.

The four first division teams of the American League all won yesterday. The New whacked the champion Tigers. The White Sox, who are travelling fast just now, did to the Athletics what the Browns did to the latter the day before, shut them out by a 10 to 0 score. The Bostons lost a slugging game in Cleveland, and in St. Louis the Washingtons added one more to their list of one run de-feats. The Washingtons have been just missing it ever since they went West.
